From Apriest Pitts.

California produces yearly about 7,000 tons of apricot pits, and home economists now obtain $200 of materials from each ton. The price of the pits, formerly sold in central Europe at $45 a ton, was reduced to two-thirds of the price. The products include a fruit oil substitute for olive oil, the essential oil of apricot (known also as bitter oil of almonds), a cooking meal and a cleansing meal, and American (formerly Prussian) blue.

Tattoo Marks.

It is usually impossible to remove such marks without leaving a permanent scar. One method is to tattoo the skin with a concentrated solution of tannin, following the original design. Then apply a crayon of silver nitrate until the skin turns black. Wipe off the excess of moisture and allow the tannin to eat into the skin. There will be pain and reddish scars will form, which may gradually disappear.
